Legislative & Regulatory Outreach

PIA National represents members' interests in state capitals and in Washington, D.C. to ensure that lawmakers and regulators understand and support the independent agency system. That's why PIA actively works with Congress and the Executive branch to ensure that your voice is heard when policymakers make decisions that impact you.

PIA has one common strategy: always put the interests of agents first! Whether it's fighting overreach by the Federal Insurance Office, standing up for agent commissions, protecting the vital role that independent agents play in delivering federally-backed crop and flood insurance, protecting small business owners against tax increases, and opposing a ban for noncompete clauses, PIA is your advocate in the halls of Congress, with regulators, and throughout our industry.

In addition, PIA works with Congress on other priority issues like cybersecurity, data security legislation and the Terrorism Risk Insurance Act (TRIA).

PIA National's advocacy also extends to important organizations like the National Association of Insurance Commissioners (NAIC), state lawmakers through the National Council of Insurance Legislators (NCOIL) and InsureTech standards groups like the Association for Cooperative Operations Research and Development (ACORD), and others – to ensure that the concerns of independent agents are addressed.

Here are some ways you can get involved:

PIA Advocacy Blog. The PIA Advocacy blog is your one-stop shop for timely updates on what's happening on Capitol Hill and on state and federal regulatory issues. Follow the blog by visiting: PIAAdvocacy.com

PIA Advocacy Day (formerly the Federal Legislative Summit). Every year PIA members gather in the nation's capital to meet with their elected representatives to discuss issues that are important to independent insurance agents. PIA Advocacy Day gives policymakers and their staffs a chance to hear directly from you, their constituents. Learn more by visiting: PIAAdvocacyDay.com

Grassroots Alerts. To ensure legislators hear the concerns of their constituents, PIA occasionally organizes grassroots campaigns in which PIA members can easily send prewritten, fully-editable letters directly to their elected officials. Send one now by visiting: piagrassroots.com

PIA Political Action Committee (PIAPAC). PIAPAC is the Professional Insurance Agents Political Action Committee. The PAC contributes to the campaigns of candidates to federal office who share our pro-insurance, pro-business perspective and who support our issues. PIAPAC is funded by the contributions of individual PIA members. To learn more visit: piapac.com

PIA Insurance Foundation

The Professional Insurance Agents Insurance Foundation (501(c)(3)) strives to further the insurance knowledge and education of those engaged in the independent insurance agency system. It is also home to the PIA Disaster Relief Fund which solicits charitable contributions and, in turn, provides relief grants to businesses following catastrophic events.
